

Mr. Robert Hereford – President 1939

By Brad Cook, Historian

Mr. Robert Hereford was the manager of the St. Louis Bureau of International News Service, and for many years was a staff writer at the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. He wrote detective novels, and the announcement of his presidency was printed in the newspaper. He was one of the first presidents of the SLWG to research the history of the organization, and his writings have corroborated much of the information discovered.

(Newspaper article from the SLWG archives, dated February 1, 1939)