DENISE PATTIZ BOGARD is founder and coordinator of the St. Louis Writers Workshop. Denise has been writing professionally for twenty-five years and has been published in Oklahoma Literary Review, Lady's Circle, St. Louis Magazine, St. Louis Post-Dispatch and P-D Magazine. She teaches writing in the Clayton School District, at Lift for Life Charter Middle School, and as an adjunct instructor at Webster University.

Denise also conducts professional development teacher workshops on how to teach writing and serves as a writing coach and editor. She received her MFA in Creative Writing at the University of Missouri-St. Louis. She has won both writing and professional development awards. Denise is at work on her first novel.

About St. Louis Writers Workshop: St. Louis Writers Workshop (STLWW), founded in 1997, offers writing workshops for adults in a casual, non-academic setting. Adults gain valuable, personalized writing instruction from high-caliber writing teachers and small-group peer input. Participants are accepted based on the quality of their manuscript submissions and on their willingness to learn. St. Louis Writers Workshop also provides editing services for creative and business writing and offers teens their own creative-writing workshops and assistance in composing their college-entrance essays.
