

Spotlight: We're pleased to present...

DICK WEISS

WORKSHOP: "Some Things Change; Storytelling Remains The Same"

Saturday, May 5, 2007

10 am until noon

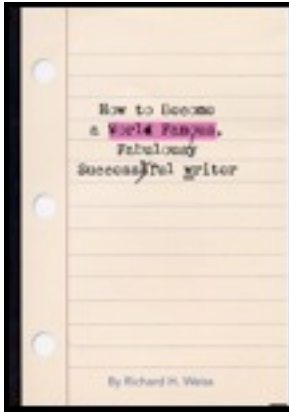

at Barnes & Noble, 9618 Watson Road, Crestwood, MO 63124

Get map and directions. For workshop details, visit our Workshops page.

All are welcome. This event is FREE to SLWG members. $5 charge for non-members may be fully credited toward dues within 30 days.

Please register in advance.

DICK WEISS is the owner and operator of WeissWrite LLC, a company that offers writing, editing and coaching services to journalists, business professionals, students and anyone with a story to tell. He is a former Post-Dispatch editor and writing coach, who has helped dozens of journalists produce award winning work. Weiss was the site director for National Writer's Workshop in St. Louis 2001-2004, and in the past year has conducted writing workshops in more than two dozen cities across the nation.

He is the author of "How to be a world famous, fabulously successful writer," an irreverent and witty guide to the writing process for students, ages 8-14.

This book and other services are available at his website, www.WeissWrite.com

Samples of Dick's stories can be found by following this link:

<http://www.weisswrite.com/about/about-dick-weiss>

Dick provides commentary on writing and the media on the McGraw Milhaven Show each Monday at 11:05 a.m. on KTRS (550 AM).

You can listen to podcasts of the McGraw Milhaven program at this link: <http://www.weisswrite.com/podcast/>