

Gerry Mandel's Photos

Gerry has taken photographs during his travels all over the world.

This picture was taken in Vevey, Switzerland, where Chaplin lived after he left the U.S. It's a memorial statue on Lake Zurich. Taken August of 2006.

Gerry; his wife, Mary Lee; and a couple from San Francisco on the Bund in Shanghai, Sept. 2005.

The next two photos are from an 8-day bike ride Gerry and his wife did last year on the island of Fyn, off the coast of Copenhagen, with a couple from Chicago.

The following three photos are from the Lewis and Clark documentary Gerry wrote, produced and directed. Called "The Journeys We Must Take," it has run on KETC in St. Louis, won an international Telly Award, and has been accepted into the L. A. Short Films Fest this month. The statue was dedicated in Sept of 2006.

Sculptor Harry Weber (left) and Director Gerry Mandel

"The Captains' Return" in place